Leave Amos Trust a legacy in your will

“Let justice roll down like rivers and righteousness like a never ending stream.” Amos 5:24

Amos Trust exists to find creative new ways to challenge injustice, to build hope and to create change. We work with grassroots organisations around the world that are developing local responses to global issues.

“ We saw the work of Amos Trust whilst in Nicaragua and wanted to make sure our commitment would continue whether we were around or not. It was a simple and natural thing to make sure we left enough money in our wills to ensure this happened.” Sue. Amos supporter Life is beautiful now. We can lead a normal life and not worry about where we sleep at night. We are safe and go to school everyday.”

We journey with our partners on the long road to justice, proclaiming hope in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds and transforming the lives of forgotten communities.

Your legacy will allow us to:

Reach some of the most abused and mistreated children in the world, valuing, trusting and supporting them as they leave the streets and reintegrate back into homes, schools and communities.

Support rural communities that experience the worst impacts of climate change, equipping them with the skills and knowledge needed to claim their rights and to thrive.

Work with women and young people in the virtual prison that is Gaza, to call for a just peace and work toward a time when all who call the Holy Land home will enjoy full equal rights.

Please continue to journey with us in creating a better future by remembering Amos Trust in your will. Visit amostrust.org/legacy.

how to leave your legacy

Bringing justice and hope to the forgotten

The young people in Aida Camp believe that it is normal to throw stones, to inhale tear gas, to hide from soldiers. But this is not normal.

We have to let them see what normal life is like and to know what they should aspire to.”

Abdelfattah Abusrour.
Alrowwad Centre, Aida Camp,

Please consider leaving Amos Trust a legacy in your will, so that the forgotten may live with hope and experience justice.

Having supported Amos Trust for many years and seen their work first-hand in South Africa and Palestine, I wanted to remember them in my will, knowing that they would continue to work with inspiring and effective partners around the world.” Mark. Amos Trust supporter
